Extends a cordial invitation to you and your friends to the exercises commemorative of the founding of some of the Famous Schools of Chester County

AT

NEW LONDON, PA.,

ON

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1911,

AT 2.30 P. M.

Fourth Annual Historical Celebration of the Chester County Historical Society, at New London, Pa.

The Chester County Historical Society will commemorate the founding of some of the early schools of Chester County, at New London, on Saturday, October 7, 1911. These old schools educated some of the most famous patriots and scholars of the country, and supplied presidents for the University of Pennsylvania and Princeton.

Addresses will be made by President John B. Rendall of Lincoln University, Prof. Paul Van Dyke of Princeton University, Provost Edgar F. Smith of the University of Pennsylvania, and Dr. G. M. Philips, President of the Historical Society. Mr. John Russell Hayes, Librarian Swarthmore College, will read an original poem.

Tablets descriptive of the several schools will be placed at Faggs Manor, Birmingham, New London, and West Chester. A granite monument, appropriately inscribed, will be erected on the grounds of New London Academy.

Documents relating to these old schools, or any relics interesting to visitors, will be received by Miss Eva Woodward, New London, Pa., a member of the Local Committee, who will care for them, place them on exhibition, and after the celebration return them to the owners. It is hoped that former students will help in making this collection large and full of interest.

The local committee will provide transportation from Kelton Station for all persons arriving from Philadelphia at 12.41, or from Oxford and points south at 2.24. All persons expecting to attend, should notify the chairman, William E. Pitt, New London, Pa.

It is hoped that there will be a large representation of members of the Society present. A most cordial invitation is extended by the Society to the former pupils of these schools, and to the people interested in them and their history.
